Weakened Vitality Impoverished Blood

Read what Ayer's Sarsaparilla did for a well-known city missionary, who writes:

"I was for many years a sufferer from boils and other eruptions of a like nature, caused by the impoverished state of my blood. My appetite was poor and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of by observation of the good it had done to others, I began taking it. My appetite improved almost from the first dose; then my general health improved, and now it is excellent. I feel a hundred per cent. stronger, and I attribute this result to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised."

As now made, Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains no alcohol.

There are many imitations Sarsaparillas.

Be sure you get "Ayer's."

NOTICE.

DEAR SIR:—In reply to the question put to me today by your Mr. Wight, I have to say that I have no reason to think that the fire which destroyed my residence on the night of the 14th inst., was caused by gas. I will rebuild on the site of my former residence at once, and it is my intention to use your product in the new house for illuminating as well as for fuel. For either purpose I regard gas as BETTER and, when used with discretion, CHEAPER and quite as SAFE as any other product.

Yours truly,

SPORTIVE SPLURGES

Rowing men in all parts of the country are just now giving much attention to the make-up of the American crew that will represent this country at the Olympic Regatta in England next July. President James P. Kirkington, of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, and Julian Curtiss, the Yale man, who is also a member of the Olympic Athletic Committee, comprise the committee selected to map out the program and decide how the crew will be selected. Their announcement has been awaited with great interest by those who would like to make the pleasant mid-summer trip to England. The time is short for picking the crew, when the tests are considered that the members of the rowing club will be forced to undergo before they make good before the committee. There is a strong sentiment that the committee will finally have to fall back on one of the college crews as the typical representative American crew.

Baseball never yet has produced a Croesus, but some moderate fortunes have been made in the national American pastime. President Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox is the wealthiest baseball magnate the game has made. Comiskey's success has been wonderful, when the obstacles he encountered in his walk to wealth are considered, for it was necessary for him to practically make a new major league before he could make a showing over the hundred thousand mark. As a player he earned good money, and much of this went into the game later on when he became a manager. The interest he drew on the principal he invested in the game, until now he stands in the position of a maker of the baseball that made him. Comiskey doesn't own the whole West Side of Chicago, but he owns plots of it large enough to make numerous ball parks.

The talk in fighting circles at San Francisco after the Britt-McFarland bout was the showing made by Packy McFarland, who created a favorable impression on the 'Frisco sports by his quick disposal of Jimmy Britt. The beauty about McFarland's work is his coolness. Never for an instant did he lose his head and every blow he delivered reached its mark. He never wasted a punch and he can deliver a blow from any position. Packy is a "two-hand" fighter; that is, he can hit as well with his left as he does with his right and there is no swing to his delivery. He shoots his mitt straight from the shoulder and while he isn't a knocker-out he has a nagging punch that gradually saps his opponent's strength.

Rudolph Unholz was behind anachronism when he quit to Gatch. When Haack complained of Gatch gouging him Unholz kidded him in the following language: "Did he gouge you? Then why did you not gouge him? There was his jaw; why didn't you swing on it? We German fighters will have to make up for our record. Packy is the greatest of his class and I will surely beat the negro." He meant Gans.

The New California Jockey Club officials have received confirmation of the press advices from Los Angeles that Jockey Preston, who is now here, was implicated in an alleged attempt to bribe Jockey Archibald to "pull" varieties in a race in which that horse was beaten a head by Roy Mutt's John Lyle during the closing days of the Santa Anita meeting.

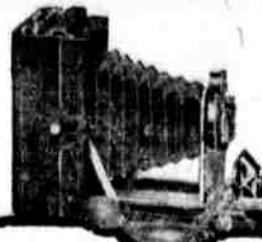

Joe Walcott and Charley Hittie boxed six rounds at Schenectady, N. Y., a short time ago and Jake Kilrain, the old-time heavyweight, was the referee. Kilrain pronounced it one of the fastest bouts he ever witnessed. The decision went to the Albany boy, though both men finished strong, and the bout might have gone a dozen rounds further.

The Pacific Coast League is long on shortstops. What minor league has four shortstops that will class with Zelder, Cooney, Delmas and Eagan? The first three named are brilliant fielders. Eagan may not cover his ground, but he will hit harder. He is a great stickler and wins many games for Oakland during the season.

Unk Russell outfought Honey Melody in a six-round bout at Philadelphia recently. Melody, who was declared to be a physical wreck some time ago, gave Unk a hard fight and showed a decided willingness to mix it at all times. Russell's superior strength and the fact that he carried the hardest punch, gave him the verdict by a fair margin.

Just who will be McFarland's next opponent is hard to guess, as Gilmore is still at sea on the matter. Whether to pit him against Rudolph Unholz, Battling Nelson or Phil Brock is puzzling him.
